DOWNING STIELT, 7th February, 1862.

To GOVENSON DOUGLAS, C. B.,
SIRE-I have received your despatch No. 7t, of the 7th December, 1861.

As Mr. COLLAND HAS QUALIFIED HIMBELF HY STUDY IN SCOTLAND, FOR PRACTICE AE A WRITER TO 7 18 SINEET. I think the Chief Justice would have acted wisely it he had carried into effect his intentien of making a Rule of Court under which that gentleman might be admitted to practice in Vancouver Island.

I have, se.,
(Signed) "NEWCASTLE."

I shall only further add, that, aithough the above document has been in the Government offices for two months, His Honor the Chief Justice has not issued a flat for my admission to the Bar, and now I leave the facts, without comment, in the hands of alseerning public.

manent cure for all diseases incident to females.

Its mild alterative properties render it peculiarly applicable to the stender and delicate constitution of the female. It is unrivalled in its effect upon such diseases as Incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Leucorrhea or Whites, Irregular Menstruation. Incontinence of Urine, and General Prostration of the System.

It immediately counteracts that distressing Nervousness and Lassitude so common to the lemale frame and imparts an energy and buoyancy as surprising as they are grateful. We have evidence on file which induces us strongly to recymmend this medicine to married people who have not been blessed with offspring.

The Shaker prepared "Yellow-Dock" and the Red "Honduras Sarsaparlila" are the invaluable remedial agents from which Dr. Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow-Dock and Sarsaparlila is formed, and the Laboratory of Dr. Guysott has given us the virtues of the roots in their perfection. His preparation contains all the restorative properties of the roots combined and concentrated to their utnost strength and efficacy.

Farming in Vancouver Island Again

In our last issue we treated of farming with a view to spreading correct notions respecting the agricultural resources of the Island. As the subject is a somewhat lengthy as well as an important one, we resume our discussion of it again : The agricultural districts which offer advantages for settlement next claim brief notice. The whole island is computed at twelve million acres, of which it is true the greater part comprises rock and mountain. But it is roughly estimated that there are at least 250,000 acres of farming land in the districts of Victoria, Saanieh, Cowitchan and Nanaimo; not to speak of available tracts that may yet be found in the imperfectly explored interval lying between the two latter localities. In Saanich, which embraces an area of 37 square miles, there are at present settlers, including women and children, numbering more than 100. These severally occupy farms ranging from 50 to 1500 acres, and their tenements contain a high proportion of clear land, combining calcareous and arenacious properties together with humus-these soils resting generally on a clayey but sometimes on a gravelly stratum. Oats, timothy, barley, wheat, all the green crops and every kind of garden fruit grow there in great perfection. This which we are placed for farming supplies upon foreign sources, with our own prolific soil only awaiting the application of capital and labor to yield us enough?

Some have looked upon the perpetuation of the Free-port system as suicidal to agricultural prosperity. But such a notion indicates a remarkable want of reflection. If the kinds of produce that flourish in the island description applies to the districts of Cowitchan, Comiaken, Quamichan, Somenos, kinds of produce that flourish in the island can be raised at the same expense as in California, Oregon, or Washington Ter-ritory, it is evident that our farmers must have a decided advantage over pro-ducers in these States who may attempt to compute with us, since they have not only and Shawnigan with this exception that clear prairie does not exist to the same extent, and that the turf has searcely in any instance been as yet turned in those placessome of the land being held by speculators. The total area of the last mentioned five compete with us, since they have not only to bear the charge of transit from the interior to their place of shipment, but of freight thence to Victoria. This latter item, especially, our farmers are enabled to save. Besides being close to the market and all our vegetables with certain of our cereals being superior to what are imported seeme a predistricts is set down at 57,658 acres, of which 50,000 are deemed superior in quality and the remaining 7600 as good for the general objects of agriculture. Numerous sections in these parts are still unpre-empted superior to what are imported secure a pre and it is said that a sufficient amount of ference for those home products. Did we possess a general protective tariff, the higher prices agriculturists would have to pay for manufactured imports would considerably outweigh any little advantage they might gain over our American neighbors in the disposing of stock and produce. If on the other good land exists in them colletively to provide farms for 500 or 600 families. In the vicinity of the same connected districts lies Admiralty Island-better known as Salt Spring Island, from briny springs which it posing of stock and produce. If on the other hand the system of protection were confined to articles strictly agricultural it might be attended with loss to the community at large contains. Its area is 90 square miles. This district, already inhabited by about 60 souls, boasts much excellent land and is being but could not sensibly benefit home produ-cers. We incline rather to the argument that if, with so little talent, energy and economy, the improved as rapidly as the narrow circumstances of the settlers permit. Convenient In, with so it is taken ichiefy and conformy, the majority of our farmers manage to keep their heads above water, their condition would be incalculably improved by the possession of a larger share of these qualities. Moreover, the free-port system should be jenlously guarded "in all its virgin purity" for if once the principle of taxing imports is acknowledged it is almost impossible for the government that the presence of formulal difficults. to Nanaimo, grazing land abounds and in what is called the cedar district there are 11,000 acres available for the plough. The Comax country, which is north of that prom ising mineral depot, is estimated to contain 300,000 acres of good arable land, a vast part of which consists of fertile prairie. ment under the pressure of financial difficul-ties, to resist the temptation to extend the application of it from articles of agriculture The Sooke, Lake, and Esquimalt districts are chiefly suitable for stock-raising, though to those of commerce. The transition from the one sphere to the other is easy. What would then be the result? The chief eleseveral large patches have been placed under crop and have borne abundantly. Dr. ment of our strength and progress would be impaired. The charm with which Victoria is now invested and by which she captivates Forhes gives the average production of wheat in the country at from 25 to 30 bushels per acre-64lbs, to the bushel; men of commerce in every quarter of the globe would be broken, and that unlucky day would be cursed by posterity when the first conception of protective policy to farmers cast an incurable blight upon commercial oats 70 bushels to the acre; weight 36 to 46lbs.; potatoes 200 bushels per acre and upwards, and of better quality than those raised in Oregon or Washington Territory. The yield of barley varies from 24 to 40 bushels per acre, according to the quality and cultivation of the land, and is preferred by brewers and others to the same product imported from California. Large tracts of land heavily timbered, that are at present passed over as comparatively valueless, will be largely sought, cleared and tilled as population in creases, and farming labor becomes more cheap and plentiful. Emigrants arriving at this early state of Colonial progress, ignorant of the amount of land in the hands of companies and private individuals, and of the considerable pequestion to white the same white the same will be sood to pay expenses.

It would be a benefaction to the Colony as well as to a certain class of our farmers,—some poor and others thriftless,—under whom rich lands are lying waste, if these could be displaced by enterprising and intelligent men who could offer the former a reasonable consideration to quit; nor would this course be otherwise than advantageous to the new purchasers.

It is marvellous that the most hasty inspection of the prices realized for preduce and

The Gas-Works. The Gas-works at Rock Bay are approach ing completion, and shortly we hope to have the pleasure of announcing the lighting of the town with gas. The company have met with numerous drawbacks since its organization; but have at last triumphed over all difficulties, and will soon have the satisfaction of seeing their enterprise and energy crowned with the success which they merit. The Works are situated at the foot of Store and Government streets, on Rock Bay, and the site comprises about two acres of groundone-third of which is redeemed or made land and is protected from the encroachment of the water of the bay by a strong levee or water-front. At the western terminus of the levee, extending into the bay 200 feet with a width of 26 feet, is a substantial wharf, at which small craft may lie and discharge cargoes of coal, &c. At the eastern end of the premises is a storehouse capable of containing from 150 to 200 tons of coal. Here the coal from which gas will be generated will be stored, in order that it may be perfectly dry when required for use, moisture in coal causing additional expense in the matter of fuel while undergoing distillation. The retort-house is 70 feet long by 30 feet wide, and contains three ovens with three retorts each. in the furnaces, and the process of generaling gas commences. As the gas is distilled it passes through vertical iron tubes, known as the "ascension pipes," into an hydraulic main filled with water, and from thence is led in a pipe to the far-well, into which the loose tar, ammoniacal liquor, and other impurities common to bituminous coal are drained off. The gas then passes into a "scrubber," (so called because it washes the gas) in the bottom of which is placed a perforated tray with charcoal; a shower of water is forced down a pipe through which the gas has to pass for further purification, and then into atmospheric condensers, through a series of pipes, where it is cooled. In this process the greater portion of the tar is sepa-rated from the gas. The gas then goes into the purifying-house, which is furnished with the purifying-house, which is furnished with four purifiers, each five feet square. In these purifiers are perforated trays, on which dry lime is placed, and the gas passing through the purifiers and being brought in contact with the lime, finally parts with its impurities. Connected with the purifiers is a water-valve, by which the gas may be turned in the purifiers at the pleasure of the operator. This water-valve is regulated and worked by means of a screw. It lessens and worked by means of a screw. It lessens the liability of an escape of gas, and is a great time and labor saver. From the purifygreat time and labor saver. From the purifying-house the gas is passed into the station-metre in the office. The station-metre is furnished with a time-piece and self-registering tell-tale, which will indicate b means of a pencil and card, the exact amount of work done at any given time and how many fect of gas are being manufactured, thereby giving the manager perfect knowledge of what is going on in the remotest portion of the Works, at any time during night or day. After leaving the station-metre the gas enters the gas-holder in the tank, [42] feet in diameter and 18 feet deep) attached to six cast-iron columns and girders with pulleys and weights. The tank is a brick-work laid and plastered in cement, 43 feet 6 inches in diameter and 18 feet deep. It is filled with water, and the gas is contained in the holder, between the grown of the latter and between the grown of the latter and the water The holder has no bottom, and sits on the water like a cap or pot-lid. As the quantity of gas generated increases or decreases, the holder rises or falls, its movements being regulated by the quantity of gas forced into it. From the the gas returns to the office and passes through the governor into the main pipe for the supply of the town, the governor regulating the pressure at which the gas is sent for the supply of the town. The office-building has an office, Director's room, and rooms for the manager. On the ground are fifty handsome manager. De the ground are my nanasome street lamp pillars ready for erecting when the City Fathers, shortly to be created, shall order the town to be lighted. The machinery and other apparatus was made at the works of James Mill & Son, Edinburgh, Scotland, and, so far as our inexperienced observation extends, is complete, and will fully meet the expectations of all concepts.

AMONG THE FIRST .- Among the first ordinances which the shortly-to-be-born Town Council will be called on to pass is one that will require manufacturers to build their smoke generated on their premises without annoyance or damage to the public. The saw-mill at the end of James Bridge-with due respect for the enterprise of its energetic proprietors-has long been justly regarded as a nuisance. It is just high enough to carry the smoke clear of the building, and just low enough to send it into the eyes and dawn the throats, through the yards and into the houses, of about one-third of our citizens. Housewives in the vicinity declare that between the smoke and the wind they are unable to get a piece of white linen from the wash; and they say that if one meets a man whose shirt-bosom is of dingy hue, or a woman whose laces are yellow-tinged, it's a sure sign that they live within a radius of a quarter of a mile of the Pioneer Saw-mill. The chimney should be raised at least twenty feet before it will cense to be an objeet upon which are showered the choicest explatives and left-handed blessings that ALLEGED PERJURY .- On Saturday the the Lake. plaintiff in a suit decided recently in the Supreme Court made application to the Police Magistrate for the arrest of one of the defendants in the suit, whom, he alleged, had been guilty of perjury in giving evidence in the case, We have not learned the result of the application, but presume from the fact day. that no warrant has been issued, that the charges were of too frivilous a nature to justify Mr. Pemberton in entertaining them Such charges are very easily preferred, but. are always extremely difficult to prove.

Lillooet, July 22, 1862.

The stocks in the hands of merchants are light, and have no chance of accumulating, as stocks in the upper country are reported carce. To quote market prices at this place with any positive accuracy is impossible, staples varying as much as $2 per 100 lbs. in a day. Flour may be quoted at $22.50, Beans $27, Bacon scarce, $40 to $45, Rice $26.

An express messenger arrived from Cariboo on Saturday evening, the news brought in private letters was highly favorable; in fact any reports of last year are altogether thrown in the shade. Three new creeks just opened are paying well. A new claim adjoining Griffins, on William's creek, prospected $80 in an hour and a half: Griffin next day was offered $8000 for half of his claim, which he declined

A HARDENED SINNER .-- Mrs. Jane Montgomery, the widow of an old settler and formerly a woman of good repute, has lately gone to the bad and opened a den at Esquimalt for the purpose of decoying the innocent lambs belonging to Her Majesty's ships and stripping them of their cash on paydays. At first, Mistress M. was quiet and apparently respectable in her demeanor, and attracted but little attention from the authorities, but latterly she took to drink and fighting, dropped her prudent and retiring disposition, and became a common scold and a town nuisance; whereupon she was arrested and taken before Mr. Pemberton. Denying that she was a bad character, she was remanded to prison to await the return of a witness for the prosecution from British Columbia.

the intervention of absolute power can actually be thrust into private life. Here is a curious example which forms the topic of conversation in the Parisian world at this moment. A wealthy merchant of Ronen, M. Levavasseur, had promised his daughter in marriage to the young Vicomic de Bondy, son of an ancient Peer of France, of very decided Orleanist opinions, and a friend from childhood of the Comte de Paris, whom he accompanied last year on his travels in the East. The marriage was on the point of being celebrated, when an obstacle knocked all the plans on the head. M. Levavasseur had married his eldest daughter to the Marquis de Conegliano, chamberlain to the Emperor. The Marquis repairs to his father-in-law, and In the immediate vicinity on the Fraser of the Congruence of the C with a family known for its hostility to the Empire would be ill-brooked by the Government, that his own personal credit and the aflairs of his father in-law might suffer by it, and that after serious reflection he thought it prudent to dissuade the match. M. Levavas seur, it seems, appreciated the advice of the distribution for he intimated to his daughter benefits Armine Mew Zealadd. that he meant to choose her another husband than M. de Bondy. The young girl answered that she was resolved to marry no one but M. de Bondy, and that she would withdraw until her marriage to the house of her nucle, M. Bestavillar resolved to Fontenillat, receiver general at Bordeaux. M. Fontenillat received his niece. A few days after he was summoned before the Minister of Finance. M. Fould spoke to him at great length upon the incident related, expressed to him the keen displeasure of the Government, and declared to him that if he continued to en-courage the resistance of Mdlle. Levavasseur to the paternal wishes, he would expose himself to the loss of the high functions with which he was entrusted. M. Fontenillat replied, that was entrusted. M. Fontenillat replied, that if M. Fould spoke as a man of the world, he thanked him for his advice; but if he spoke as a Minister, it was surprising that he should interfere in such matters. A few days later M. Fontenillat is invited to appear with his niece before the Empress. The Empress addresses Mdlle. Levavasseur, and presses her to yield to the desire of her father to give up a marriage which would grieve her friends. "We have often received you with pleasure at the Taileries," added the Empress; "after the marriage which you wish to contract your access to Court would be impossible." "Madame," answered Mdlle. Levavasseur, "I am very grateful for the kindness of your Majesty, exceptions." very grateful for the kindness of your Majesty, but when I am married I shall go to the friends of my husband." ## Holloway's Ointment.

A Cure for Piles and Fistulas.

Inflammation of sensitive parts, piles, fistulas, and such like painful diseases may be presently relieved, and ultimately cured, by the proper and diligent use of this cooling and heading Dintment, whose action should, in such cases, be assisted by juucious doses of Pilis: ere many days have elapsed the anxious patient will experience a wonderful degree of case from this treatment. They are equally suitable to both sexes, and all ages.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthma.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthma.
These complaints of the chest come on with alarming frequency. The Ohntment should assiduously be ubbed at least twice a day on the chest and between the shoulders, when the violence of all symptoms will gradually give way, the breathing become longer, and the oppression less. No medicines are more efficient in chest complaints, none can be used with qual safety and certainty. Both Pills and Ohntment re accompanied by very clear and simple directions or using them.

A Man who refused to have his Leg off. A Man who refused to have his Leg off.

"From the Kidrush Advertiser, June 2nd, 1860."

Bundamn Cox, Esquire, Magistrate, said in the Board Room at Kilrush, that he knew a man who had been in the Infirmary and was actually turned out as incurable, on his way home to Kilrush, he purchases said, it is, Infloway's Fills and Gintment, said Mr. Cox, became by worse with him. This man, said Mr. Cox, became by where we as sound and as healthy as any man in they found, sore, or all cer, however long standing, if properly used according to the printed directions.

Gout and Rheumatism. Gout and Rheumatism.

The essence of these diseases lie in the blood, which has, floating through each vessel, the pain-giving poison, which irritates and inflames every tissue it comes in contact with, and produces the hot, swollen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty diseases. The philosophy of cure consists in overcoming this depravity in the blood, which is rapidly purified by the use of the Pills The Ointment, when rubbed upon the skin, penetrates the system through the pores, acts in unison with the Pills, and soon effects a cure.

Dropsy, Swotten Legs or Ankles.

Bropsy, Swollen Legs or Ankles.

The various kinds of dropsies, whether windy or watery, arise from some obstruction to the free circulation though the blood vessels or lymphatics, or depend on the inflamed state of some secreting surface. Holloway's remedies, of which the officacy cannot be exaggerated, act directly upon the blood, the absorbents and secretions, with a power that no dropsy however inveterate, can long resist. They regulate the proper flow of blood to everything that is morbid or injurious,—they filter out everything that is morbid or injurious,—they there out everything that is morbid or injurious,—they there are for good, they are power-less for evil. They do not contain mercury or any noxious substances. They are tailey and certainly.

Headaches, Bile, Loss of Appetite, and Lowness of Spirits.

These Pills require no interruption of business or pleasure; they act mildly on the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and promote a healthy action of the liver, whereby they purily the blood, cleanse the skin, brace the nerves, and invigorate the while system. They effect a truly wonderful change in debilitated constitutions, as they create a healthy appetite, correct indigestion, remove bile, giddiness, head-aches, and palpitation of the heart.

Weakness and Debility.

Weakness and Debility.

Weakness and Debility.

In cases of debility, languor, and nervousness generated by excess of any kind, whether mental or physical, the effect of these l'ills is in the highest degree bracing, renovating and restorative. They drive from the system the morbid cause of disease; re-establish the digestion, regulate all the secretions, brace the nervous system, raise the patient's spirits, and bring back the frame to its pristine health and vigor. They increase the appetite, while they secure perfect digestion to all ordinary food, and release the invalid from restraint in diet.

A Word to Females.

There are two periods, especially in Woman's life, which require for safe passage, judgment and attention. Irregularity is apt at those critical times to take place, and to lay the foundation of future disease. These Pills, safe in action, and effective in result, should be taken at certain periods, and the issae will be marvellous both to the young and the middle aged. They prevent nervousness, hysterics, dropsy, and a host of similar serious disorders, by expelling all impurities from the system, therefore none should ver be without them.

Children's Complaints.

It is not generally known, but such is the fact, that children require medicine oftener than their parents, Three-tourths of the children die before they attain the-age of eight years. Let mothers, then, be wise, and give to their children small doses of these invaluable Pills once or twice every week, in such quantity as may act gently upon the system twice in the wenty-four hours. For infants, a Pill may be crushed and given as a powder in a little water. The gross humors that are constantly floating about in the blood of children, the foreruncers of so many complaints, will thus be expelled, and the lives of thousands saved and preserved to their parents.

until now there is scarcely an inhabitable part of the globe where it is not used and highly appreciated. The following are a few of the many Certificates received:
Rev. Valentine Gray, of the Methodist Church, writes

from Centerville, Pa.;

Having experienced the beneficial effects of your Faunty Medicines, I would give it us my opinion that they are the very best I ever had occasion to use, and most cheerfully recommend them to the afflicted. Your EXPELIORANT especially I have found to be a sure cure for COUGHS and COLDS.

The Great Domestic Revolution.

HARPER TWELVETTREESS SOAD
POWDER for washing without Rubbing has created an entire change and thoroughly revolution in the management of the "Family Wash;" and there are no reasons why the old, slovenly and disgusting process should be retained—a process so unnecessary, unscientific, and barbarous as to be considered a great national disgrace! Harper Twelvetrees! Soan Powder saves time, trouble, money, firing, soan, 'tongue and temper,' and entirely sholishes the "female slavery" of the tub, and the present domestic happiness destroying practice of washing. It contains nothing injurious, but is as safe for the frabric and skin as the best soan! Only boil the clothes? So minutes and bang them up to dry. No Rubming is required, however dirty the clothes! A Penny Packet bears the signature of the sole Manufacurer, Harper Twelvetree, "The Works."

Every Packet bears the signature of the sole Manufacurer of Washing Powder in the world. Sold by all Grocers and Druggists.

Blood to the Head-Diseases of the Heart More persons die suddenly from diseases of the heart than the unlearned suppose: in such complaints, the bowels should always be kept well open, as also where there is a tendency of blood to the head. These celebrated Pills purify the blood in an extraordinary manner, and should be taken in copious doses when such symptons occur, taking care not to overload the stomach; by this means all dancrisquickly averted.

My son, aged nineteen years, was confined to his bed for for three months, his disease being pronounced by the attending physician to be CONSUMPTION. Palling to obtain any relief from the treatment he had been undergoing. I procured for him JAYNES EXPECTORANT, and through its use he has been entirely restored to health.

writes:

Being afflicted with BRONCHITIS for the gapeeof three years, to such an extent that I was obliged to relinquish the teaching of Vocal Masle, and failing to obtain any relief from the physicians whom I consulted, I gave the EXPECTOLANT a trial. After using it for a few weeks I was very much relieved; and by its continued use my threat is now entirely clear of any disease.
